UNESCO, Paris France

Dear Colleagues

With great pleasure and enthusiasm, I will like to recommend and endorse the renewal proposal of the UNESCO Chair in Migration, Development and Human Rights of the Universidad Autonoma Zacatecas, Mexico coordinated by Dr. Raul Delgado Wise, internationalist, researcher and professor.

This chair has demonstrated the need, importance and the collaborative action needed in academia to study and develop approaches to understand the weight and impact of migration-immigration trends in the region, and more important, the receiving policies to integrate them in society's institutions oriented by the human rights. The social responsibility of higher education institutions towards achieving Human Sustainable Development Societies.

We are looking forward to engage and develop new higher education partnerships and collaboration between this chair and developing countries in the Caribbean region, where the migration-immigration trends are crucial in the future of our countries, the receiving policies and the capabilities of our institutions.

Cordially,
